

Help us Fund Lifesaving Heart and Lung Research

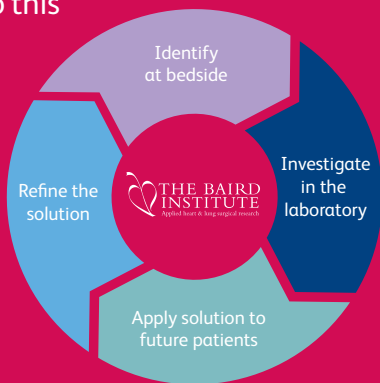

The Baird Institute is the only research group in Australia to focus entirely on clinical & surgical heart and lung conditions.

Professor Doug Baird, had a vision to identify problems at the bedside, investigate them in the laboratory and apply the solutions to real people with real problems. Our surgeons do this each and every day.

With your support, we will continue to foster, fund and promote cardiothoracic research in medical undergraduates, graduates and our own surgeons. This research will in turn lead to greater public health benefits for the whole community.

We receive no government funding. Our research and training relies solely upon donations and bequests, so please help us today.

“One third of all Australians will die of heart disease – with your help, we can turn this around.”

Valuable research into heart and lung disease is being done but little time or money is directed towards improvements in surgical techniques. This is our focus at The Baird Institute.

Gifts of $200 by 100 donors ($20,000) can support a medical masters scholarship student to do lifesaving research;

Gifts of $100 or more can support a range of research projects, including inherited aortic disease which affects the major blood vessel from the heart;

Gifts of $50 or more can support our clinical trials team as they conduct over 10 trials.

Your gift will assist our research program and educate the next generation of surgeons to embody the ideals of Professor Baird – science, surgery, sensitivity and skill.
